There are plans to work on new Valley freeways in 2008, according to Doug Nintzel with ADOT.

"It's going to be the year of really concentrating on I-17 in the north Valley and then I-10 in the west Valley from the Loop 101 out to close to the 303 connection," he said.

The last few miles of the Loop 202 will also be finished this year.

ADOT plans to do most of the work at night and has plans to keep many lanes open during some construction.
